

MYSTERY SURROUNDS NEW YORK SHOOTING

NEW YORK, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Death today was pending in the bedside of Patrick Connor in the Reconstruction Hospital and ready to seal, perhaps forever, the mystery attending the apparently premeditated attack upon him late last night in one of the most exclusive residence sections of the city.

Waited For Victim

The man who fired four shots into Connor's body had been lying in wait for him near the 83rd street entrance to Central Park, and he was seen by a number of persons talking with another man and a girl, who were being sought by the authorities, Connor lapsed into unconsciousness before he could tell the name of his assailant and members of his family were silent.

Atmosphere of Cold Bloodedness. Around the case, however, there was an atmosphere of cold blooded calculation that has been missing from New York's long list of recent homicide cases.

Shot Down in Retribution. Many reports gained currency, but one that either had some fragment of truth supporting it or was so remote enough to be believed was to the effect that Connor, a former Sinn Féin leader, had been shot down in retribution for having betrayed his Irish compatriots to the British.

850,000 In Diamonds Stolen

CLEVELAND, April 14.—Diamonds valued at $850,000 were taken from the office safe of the Max Kurjan company, jewelers, in a downtown office building, this morning by three bandits, one masked, who entered the store with drawn revolvers, drove David Glump, office manager, and a friend into the safe, seized the diamonds and escaped.

First diamonds, necklaces and diamond-set bracelets comprised the loot. The Kurjan Company store is on the third floor of an office building on Euclid avenue, in the heart of Cleveland's downtown business district. One bandit covered Manager Glump with a revolver; another pointed a revolver at D. P. Schenker, Glump's friend, while the third robber took the jewels out of the strong box.

The most diamonds were in one tray, the necklaces in another and six diamond set bracelets, valued at $200,000, were in a third. The bandits scooped up the contents of the tray, deposited the loot in a satchel belonging to Glump and all three dashed from the store.

Not a trace of them nor even a hint to their identity, save the meagre description of the victims, could be found when the police arrived on the scene.

60 Year Old Woman Beaten By Bandits

CLEVELAND, April 14.—A sixty-year-old woman was beaten to her knees outside an East end theater today while two other bandits, one with a gun and a third with a knife, looted her purse.

After relieving her of small sums of money, the bandits confiscated the auto belonging to one of them and locked the woman in the theater office. The woman, Mrs. Antonia Prebka, was being taken to the theater, owned by her son, when she was confronted by the bandits with leveled revolvers.

When Mrs. Prebka attempted to escape she was struck in the face by one of the bandits and her handbag, containing $200, was taken from her.

No Armenians Deported From United States Have Been Massacred By Turks

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—After an investigation made by the state and labor departments over a period of three months, it has been definitely determined, Secretary Davis announced today, that no Armenians deported from the United States under the immigration law have been massacred by Turks at Constantinople. Testimony before the house immigration committee last December by witnesses urging modification of the law included circumstantial accounts of the slaughter of one party of seventeen Armenians immediately after their return from the United States to Constantinople.

No Evidence To Substantiate Rumor. After leaving no avenue of useful investigation unexplored, Secretary Hughes wrote to Mr. Davis in a letter given out today, "The American high commission at Constantinople was unable to find the slightest evidence to substantiate the rumor to which you have invited my attention."

Spoke To One Of Party. Mr. Hughes further enclosed the statement of a member of the Armenian party who declared that it had met "no special difficulty upon our arrival at Constantinople" and spoke of seeing a number of other members of the party on the streets of Constantinople.

The charges of the massacres were originally made to the committee by C. V. Knightly, representing the Cornerstone Welfare Council of Boston, who said that the 17 Armenians, in question, after their arrival at Constantinople were "not seen any more until the dead bodies were seen in the Phosphors or in the ocean."

No Source of Correspondence. Mr. Knightly further said that an Armenian boy in the Boston city hospital had committed suicide on learning of the deaths of his relatives in messages forwarded to him through Roberts College at Constantinople. The government agent reported that the college faculty had been unable to find the source of any correspondence in the matter.

McCormack Passes The Crisis

NEW YORK, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—John McCormack, noted tenor, who was stricken with an affection of the throat here last Saturday and whose illness became alarming on Wednesday, was declared today to have passed the crisis, but he will not be able to sing again for several months. Physicians in attendance upon the singer asserted the illness would not affect the quality of his voice, as the infection was above the larynx.

All concert engagements made by Mr. McCormack have been cancelled and he has given up his plan to leave on May 2 for a tour of Ireland and continental Europe. The illness was related today to have dated back to February 5, when the tenor, while filling a concert engagement at Minneapolis, had a severe attack of laryngitis. Since that time his condition has not been good.

HUNDREDS ARE DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY FLOODS

BEARDSTOWN, ILL., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Waters of the Illinois river continued rising today and three-fourths of the population of this city of 8,500 had been driven from their homes or were residing in their second story rooms. Half of the area of the city is under water. Railroad tracks of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the only road still able to operate trains here, were threatened by the rising waters. A force of 300 men worked to maintain the road bed. Another large force was at work on the south Beardstown levee, which protects 6,000 acres of wheat lands.

During the night thirty more families were compelled to leave their homes and join the refugees on the high lands. Some difficulty is being experienced in maintaining sanitary conditions as many of the sewers have been broken.

So far it is difficult to estimate the damage, but valuable stocks in several stores have been ruined. The crest of the flood is not expected for another day at least.

Flood Babies Born in Tents. BEARDSTOWN, ILL., April 14.—Relief workers of the Salvation Army and the Red Cross were working among the flood refugees here this morning ministering particularly to little "flood babies" and another new arrival—Beardstown's two "flood babies." The babies were born in army tents.

CAIRO, ILL., April 14.—Refugees are coming into Cairo from the north, where rising seep water has driven nearly 100 negro families from their homes. The Ohio river has remained above the fifty foot stage for 18 days, which exceeds previous records. At Cape Girardeau, Ill., the levee has been strengthened to withstand the crest of the Mississippi flood.

Prisoner Argues Own Case In Court

NEW YORK, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Accompanied by a prison guard, Isaac E. Ferguson, a former Chicago lawyer, now serving from five to ten years in Sing Sing for violating the criminal anarchy law, appears today in the chambers of Justice Cardozo, of the court of appeals, to personally argue a motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt in connection with his conviction.

Circulated Radical Paper. Ferguson and Charles E. Ruthenberg, who joined in the plea, were convicted by the appellate division of the supreme court in 1920 for their alleged interest in the circulation of a radical paper that published the left wing Socialist manifesto.

The appeal of Ferguson and Ruthenberg was the first test of the criminal anarchy statute since it was enacted twenty years ago. Ferguson and Ruthenberg are two of eight men who were arrested during the height of the activities of the Lusk legislative committee, indicted by a special grand jury and prosecuted under a law enacted immediately after the assassination of President McKinley, but never invoked until 1920.

Validity of The Act Questioned. The validity of the law, under the constitutional guarantees of free speech, is questioned in the appeal, which asks the court for a proper construction of the criminal anarchy statute and of paramount importance is the appellants' denial of legal responsibility for the publication upon which the whole prosecution was based.

Defended Communists. Until his conviction and imprisonment, Ferguson, a resident of Chicago, was more or less in charge of the defense of Communists under prosecution. A member of the Illinois and federal bars since 1911, he wrote appeal briefs in the Debs case before the United States supreme court in the Rose Pastor Stokes case before the United States circuit court of appeals and in other leading radical cases.

Ruthenberg, a Socialist leader for more than twelve years, resided in Cleveland, where as Socialist candidate for governor he received 50,000 votes in 1912, and as candidate for mayor in 1918, received 27,000 votes.

Justice Cardozo reserved decision and Ferguson was taken back to prison.

Burch Laughs Heartily When Woman Says She Would Not Hang Man

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Bolton Kennedy, laughed heartily when Mrs. Frederick S. Lyon, on the stand from which it was hoped a jury would be obtained, frankly declared in court she would "never vote to hang a young man."

She was not accepted, even temporarily, but three other women were temporarily passed and in the jury box for the opening of court today when counsel were to resume the task of examining the witnesses. Nine men were in the box, but one was under examination.

Both prosecution and defense have given up hope of completing the jury this week.

Periwinkle Hats, Bright Tweeds, Etc. Promised Fine Weather For Easter

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The much criticised blapper found a friend today in the weather bureau, which indicated that she might go forth on Easter wearing her bright colored tweed suit and periwinkle hat without fear of rain.

Generally fair weather for Sunday was seen by the bureau for that portion of the country east of the Mississippi river, and probably for the southwestern states. Unsettled conditions, however, may prevail from the Great Lakes west to the Pacific coast, it was said. Moderate temperatures will be experienced through the south, while in the north the weather generally will be cool, but not cold.

Fifteen Hundred Negroes Rendered Homeless

NORFOLK, Va., April 14.—Fifteen hundred negroes rendered homeless by conflagration which swept through Berkeley, a Norfolk suburb, last night, were fed and sheltered today by private and governmental relief agencies.

After a sleepless and sleepless night, dawn found hundreds of the refugees wandering wearily over the blackened, devastated fire area, extending for three quarters of a mile through the heart of the negro section and containing the ruins of 300 homes.

City officials estimated the total property loss at $750,000. A large cook tent was erected at Berkeley today by the department of public welfare and small tents were brought from the navy yard in the St. Helena reservation to give men of the negro colony shelter. Women and children were taken care of at the homes of negroes in Berkeley and Norfolk.

The origin of the fire still remained undetermined today, but police officials inclined to the belief that a lighted match or cigarette thrown in to trash at a dismantled lumber plant by some boys who were playing baseball in an adjacent lot may have been responsible. The blaze started at the plant and spread rapidly.

To Go On Trial For Stealing Four Cents

COLUMBUS, O., April 14.—Lawrence Oels, 23, is scheduled to be tried in municipal court today on a larceny charge, the amount involved being four cents, said by court attaches to be probably the lowest ever put up for hearing.

He is charged specifically with dropping a slug into a postage stamp machine to get two two-cent stamps. Police said they found fifty slugs in his pockets when they arrested him.

Cabinet Observes Good Friday; Did Not Meet

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding and members of his cabinet today dispensed with the Friday cabinet meeting in deference to Good Friday. The president, however, met the newspaper correspondents as usual.

Oil Still Explodes; One Killed

CHICAGO, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—One man was killed and two or three were wounded when a Standard Oil Company oil still at Whiting, Ind., exploded early this morning, according to official reports received at the company's offices here. All the victims were employees.

A battery of ten oil stills burned after the explosion. The intense heat from the fire made a thorough investigation impossible for some time with the result that there were rumors that the casualty list was much larger. These proved to be unfounded, however.

Fire fighting companies from nearby towns were summoned to extinguish the blaze which did damage estimated variously at between $125,000 and $250,000. The Standard Oil company has its own fire force, however, and it finally proved sufficient to cope with the blaze.

A similar explosion occurred about a year ago, resulting in the death of four men.

The man killed today was believed to be a workman named Fred Simpson. The body was buried to a child.

Tragedy Is Echo Of Murder

Rare Seal Captured

SAN DIEGO, CAL., April 14.—Capture of a live guadalupe, or southern fur seal, said to be very rare, is reported by the Zoological Society here. The seal was caught when floundering in a beach. It recovered from its exhaustion at the Balboa park zoo.

At the natural history museum at the park, it was said that only four skulls, all but one imperfect, of the guadalupe seal, are known of in American collections. They are at the natural history museum at Washington, D. C. No skin of the animal was in any known collection, it was said.

665,000 MINERS ARE IDLE, SAY STRIKERS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—With the end today of the second week of the nation-wide suspension of work in the coal industry, interest at union headquarters here was centered in the progress of enlisting more non-union workers in the walk-out. The total of 665,000 idle miners, claimed by the union, showed a gain of more than 25,000 during the week, and the opinion in union circles was that the strike had not yet reached its peak strength.

Gains Scored In Pennsylvania. Gains scored in the Pennsylvania coke districts were the most significant developments from the union point of view, while the only reverse seemed the temporary injunctions affecting two important West Virginia fields, which hampered the union activities. In the latter fields, however, the union did not admit any loss of men, who joined in the suspension during the first week.

Direct Efforts at Non-Union Men. The support gained in the Pennsylvania non-union fields had encouraged union officials to concentrate much of its work there. While the hope apparently was to gain a complete shut-down of the mines there, no production of such success had yet been made by union officials. Organizers in some localities were said to be having trouble establishing contact with the non-union workers, union officials asserting that meetings were difficult or impossible because of the activities of mine guards.

Mrs. Raizen is now a prisoner in the Raymond street jail, this city, awaiting trial before the King's county court on a charge of murder.

Stone Trial Depressed Her. Mrs. Lena Tolansky, mother of Mrs. Glickstein, said that at the time of Miss Stone's trial her daughter exclaimed: "If the Stone woman goes free, the woman who murdered my husband will go free. Anyway, as long as the doctor is dead, I might as well be dead myself."

Frances Glickstein, fifteen-year-old daughter of the dead woman, who came from Lakewood, N. J., to spend the holiday season, slept with her last night, the mother retiring about midnight. Frances said her mother seemed to be a little more cheerful than usual. When Frances awoke early this morning, her mother was missing. Soon afterwards, a policeman who had found the body on the sidewalk, awakened the family.

Mrs. Glickstein's head had struck an iron post at the entrance to the house.

World War Bitterness Causes Suit

NEW YORK, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bitterness caused by the world war has found an echo in a suit for $200,000 begun by Mrs. Henrietta Gunther, of Orange, N. J., against Mr. and Mrs. Carl Victor, of this city.

Mrs. Gunther alleges the defendants, the uncle and aunt of her deceased husband, alienated the affections of her two children in revenge for her refusal to accept their pro-German views during the war. The father of the children committed suicide in this city in 1915 and in 1917, Mrs. Gunther said, she consented to surrendering custody of the children to the Vectors, being promised in consideration of her action money for her support from a fund set aside for the support and education of the children by their grandmother. She declared she had received only small payments, and that the Vectors had succeeded in alienating the affection of the children from her.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Another tragedy growing out of the sensational murder of Dr. Abraham Glickstein by Mrs. Lillian Raizen, in Brooklyn last December was recorded today when his widow, Mrs. Anna Glickstein ended her life by leaping from the third story window of her mother's home in Brooklyn. The doctor's mother dropped dead at his funeral. Mrs. Glickstein had been laboring under a heavy mental strain since her husband had been shot, members of the family indicated, and it was said she had been brooding over the recent acquittal of Olivia M. P. Stone, for the murder of Ellis Guy Kinkaid, former Cincinnati lawyer. Mrs. Raizen, who has confessed the murder of Dr. Glickstein, is now a prisoner in the same jail where Miss Stone was incarcerated, awaiting trial.

Third Death of Tragic Series. The suicide of Mrs. Glickstein is the third death in a tragic series which began last December when Dr. Abraham Glickstein, a practitioner of some prominence in Brooklyn, was slain by a woman, who had been admitted with other patients, to his office. The actual shooting was not witnessed by any of the other patients in the physician's waiting room, and the first that was known of it was when Dr. Glickstein tumbled through a door and fell dying across the threshold. His assailant had escaped by a rear door to the inner office.

Mother Fell Dead On Viewing Body. Dr. Glickstein's mother fell dead when she viewed his body upon its being taken into the Glickstein home. For several days the police of New York pursued various clues, but three days after the shooting a woman named Mrs. Lillian Raizen, surrendered to the police, confessing she had shot and killed Dr. Glickstein. She declared her motive was vengeance for an operation the physician had performed upon her, which rendered her incapable of becoming a mother. She admitted she had for several years been "under the influence" of the doctor and had submitted to the alleged operation at his request.

Mrs. Raizen is now a prisoner in the Raymond street jail, this city, awaiting trial before the King's county court on a charge of murder.

Stone Trial Depressed Her. Mrs. Lena Tolansky, mother of Mrs. Glickstein, said that at the time of Miss Stone's trial her daughter exclaimed: "If the Stone woman goes free, the woman who murdered my husband will go free. Anyway, as long as the doctor is dead, I might as well be dead myself."

NEW YORK, April 14.—The two-masted schooner W. P. Dodge, said to be bound from Nashua in the Bahamas for St. Pierre, Miquelon, with a load of liquor, was seized by a police patrol as she was entering the narrows early today. The police said they found 25 barrels of rye whiskey and 400 cases of Scotch.

The craft was flying the British flag.

Another Boost For Eddie Hock

The Cincinnati Times-Star this morning said:
"George Stallings, leader of the Braves, when they won the pennant in 1914, came to the ball yard Thursday, seeking players for his Rockstar club. He first tackled Billy Killefer. Although Killefer has 30 players and must soon release five of them, he declined to turn any loose at this time. Stallings then made an earnest plea to Pat Moran, asking for the loan of Ed Hock. Nothing doing. 'I have a Virginia league pitcher named Blake,' said George, 'and he claims that Hock is the best young ball-player living. I think I have the fastest of them all—an outfielder named Maurice Archibald.'"

REVIVAL SERVICES

First Christian

Continuing his strong practical teaching before a full sized audience last evening, Rev. Culbertson brought his forceful message to a close with a strong appeal for his hearers to live the better life to have within themselves the evidences of pardon as taught in His Holy Word.

Rev. Culbertson led the folk in a lively song service, concluding it with one of his splendid solos, "Rev. Culbertson has had some trouble with a severe cold since coming to First Christian to help in the special service and this has caused him to have to leave off many of his songs, quite a number of folk have attended the services each evening to hear him, and he has expressed his regret at being unable to sing each evening. Tomorrow evening at seven-fifteen, the song service will start and this will be the closing week night song service. The usual Easter services will be held on Sunday morning and evening.

Tonight Rev. Culbertson will speak on the theme "A Man's Last Chance." There should be a goodly number present to hear this closing of week night services.

In his remarks last night Rev. Culbertson attempted to show, and with a great many references to Holy Writ he substantiated his arguments that a man can know that he does have the evidence of pardon, that this evidence is so plain that it cannot be misunderstood, that a man does know when he is saved and when he is safe, that the Father does not leave man in doubt. In support of these arguments he said: "The question of pardon and the knowing by man, of when he is saved, of knowing that he is pardoned, of being sure as old as time itself. Our fathers seemed to give this question a great deal more concern than we ourselves. They were earnestly studying and looking for the evidence of pardon. They wanted to know, and this is too great a matter for us to be in doubt about. On it hangs our destiny. It is a matter of where shall we spend eternity? We are inquiring, we want to know. The traveler must confirm his way that he may know that he is going in the right direction to reach the desired destination; the sailor must have a correct compass if he would sail the uncharted seas and arrive safely in the port with his cargo. So we in this journey of life must have certain marks, a certain and accurate compass if we would know our destination and that we are on the right way. (Here he refers to many passages that confirm and point the way and how we may know.)

"The child asks forgiveness of his parents, they forgive him, he knows that he is forgiven and there is a spirit within him that bears witness of his forgiveness and he is happy again. So the heavenly Father has told us that if we come with our true conditions that he will forgive. He will do it and we certainly will know for His spirit bears witness with ours that we are the sons of God. There are two witnesses, both of them unimpeachable. The Holy spirit, the word of truth, and our spirit, that which is in man, that which is the man himself. The Holy spirit operates through the Word. It may operate in other ways that we do not understand but we know that it operates through the word and that it teaches men the way, the truth and the life. Both of these witnesses are true and unimpeachable. The Holy spirit does not need to speak to men today, to teach them in a miraculous way as he did in days of old. He has done that already. We do not need more. The Word is enough. It is all sufficient. We cannot depend on our feelings, nor our sincerity. We may be sincere and be wrong, we may feel all right and it may be the weather that has affected us. Jacob felt that he would never see Joseph again, but he did. Paul was sincere in what he was doing when he was killing the early Christians and trying to stamp out their work but he was wrong and he was just as sincere in the service of the Master when he found out that he was wrong. Then hear the conclusion of the whole matter, the Holy Spirit points the way, man's spirit says yes, that is the way; the Holy spirit says walk therein, and man's spirit says by the help of God I will walk therein and by these two witnesses of evidence of your pardon is established. It matters not about your visions and dreams, about what you think about it or the way you would like to have it. It is established by the Holy Spirit bearing witness with our spirit that we are the sons of God and it doth not appear what we shall be." Thus said the Lord is the only way, the true way, the way of the Cross.

At U. B. Church

"Tomorrow" was the subject chosen by Dr. W. A. Knapp at the U. B. revival services last night. His text was from Exodus 8:10. "And he said 'Tomorrow.' The text is part of a dialogue between Pharaoh, king of Egypt and Moses, deliverer of the Israelites. You remember that Jacob went down about two hundred years before, and for years the people had served as slaves to the Egyptians. It is thought that they built the pyramids for their tasks were heavy. Every privilege was taken from them. The burdens were so painful that they cried out to God. God sent a deliverer. Moses asked Pharaoh to let the Children of Israel go, but he refused and judgment was sent upon him. He made more promises and broke them all. Pharaoh said, 'Who is God, that I should obey Him?' God sent a curse of frogs and they literally covered the earth. They were everywhere. The king sent for Moses and said, 'Entreat God to deliver us from this plague. I will let the people go.' Moses asked, 'When?' Pharaoh answered, 'Tomorrow.'"

We are not so much concerned as to why he said tomorrow. There are people today saying, 'Tomorrow.' Predestination is the thief of time. Men and women say what Pharaoh said tomorrow. Predestination not only wastes your time and God's time. It wastes your life. There are men and women in led-today because they said tomorrow. Some had as good a chance as you have tonight. Don't let predestination steal your time and rob you of eternal life. I don't think that you are completely disinterested. At least you have no idea of being lost by your saying, tomorrow. You may be nearer your heavenly home than you may imagine and you may be nearer hell than you think. There are many reasons that people give for waiting. Some say, 'I am waiting until I get better.' Others say, 'I don't understand religion.' There are a great many things you do not understand but you accept them. Why not accept Christianity the same way? Why don't you accept Christianity because it is the right thing to do, because it is the only manly thing for you to do."

At Franklin M. E.

Another helpful and successful meeting was held at the Franklin Avenue church last night. The hymns chosen for the song service as well as the solo by Mrs. Smith were in keeping with the sacredness of the day and evening. The pastor chose his text from Zach. 11:12, "Give me my price." The spoke of the betrayal of Judas who thought the sum of fifteen dollars an equivalent to the value that Jesus and His salvation might have been to him, and therefore sold out. Many others are selling out today for even less than that.

Three accepted Christ at the altar service following the sermon. Mrs. Anna Smith will speak at both the afternoon and evening services today. Tonight will be known as young people's night, and a large audience is expected.

Trinity M. E. Church

"I love Him, because He first loved me." In the revival meetings now drawing to a close at Trinity church inspiring hymns and special musical numbers have been one of the pleasing features. Thursday evening the Columbia Chorus, whom Trinity congregation always welcomes with pleasure gave the special numbers. Tonight, Mr. Clem de Bruin who has charge of the singing, will sing, and this announcement, coupled with the fact that it is the observance of Good Friday, should make this, the closing night the outstanding meeting of the series. Sunday morning at the regular church hour the Resurrection sermon will be preached and at the beginning of the service infants presented will receive baptism.

Romans 10:10, "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." Reminded the text of last evening's message, Jesus looking into the faces of the little company who drew closer to Him as death stalked nearer, knew how they would be tempted, and prayed for them not that they should be taken out of the world, but that they should be kept.

"The Good Friday Fallacy"

There was a fine audience at the First Baptist church last night to listen to the pastor speak and witness the baptism that followed the evening message. After a song service the pastor called the attention of the people to his text, John 19:31, and said in part:

"Protestantism has almost entirely fallen in line with the Roman Catholic idea that Jesus died on Good Friday. For centuries the Apostolic churches in Asia and Europe kept the anniversary of Christ's death on the day when the Jews killed their Passover lamb and celebrated this resurrection three days thereafter. Where did the error start? The basis was ignorance regarding the Jewish Scriptures and Jewish customs. They imagined that because it was on the day before a Jewish Sabbath that our Lord was crucified. He must have been crucified on Friday. We must bear in mind that the Jews had special Sabbaths, or "High Days," Holy Conventions, special and apart from the "weekly Sabbath," and that one of these favored the great feast of the Passover, namely, "Passover," "Pesach" and "Tabernacles." It was a Sabbath on which no servile work was to be done. Lev. 23:7, 21, 35. Ex. 12:16, "That Sabbath" and the "High day" of John 19:31 was the "Holy convention," the first day of the feast which quite overshadowed the ordinary weekly Sabbath. This Sabbath, having been mistaken from the weekly Sabbath, has led to all the confusion.

The present day custom and practice has caused the church to present the weakest kind of an apology for our Lord's own words: "As I have been three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, so shall the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth." For the far-fetched excuse that the Jews reckoned parts of days as whole days is swept away by the exactitude of our Lord's words: "Three days and three nights." Higher critics have attacked this weak apology to prove that the words of our Lord are unreliable and need to be adjusted to facts, whereas the church needs rather to adjust her mistaken practice to our Lord's words.

There will be services tonight at 7:15. A most hearty welcome is extended to all.

CHAMPION SELECTS HONORED AT BANQUET

Members of the Selects Basketball team and their legal friends who are guests brought to a most fitting close the 1922 season of the Selects last evening when a banquet was held in the dining hall of the First Presbyterian church. The banquet followed with a short program of addresses and a social hour. The banquet was followed with a short program of addresses and a social hour. The banquet was followed with a short program of addresses and a social hour.

As the banqueters took their seats, the Harmon Boys started playing, rendering several selections which kept them tapping on the floor. Chester Higgins sang a beautiful solo "Rose of My Heart." His artistic voice attracted all those present and an encore was demanded. Prof. F. H. McComb was the first speaker. Choosing "Team Work," as his text, he pointed the results which it had brought to the team during the past season and urged them to strive for the same success in the game of life. He congratulated the team that it had never stooped to the use of unsportsmanlike methods even when a game appeared lost. "Team Work" was the reason for the remarkable record made by the team last season," the speaker said. "The players proved themselves to be unselfish and played the game in an honest and upright manner. It is not the one who gets the basket that counts, but the one who is in the best position to get it," he said.

He was followed by Prof. Frank R. Appel, who spoke on "Clean Play." He congratulated the players, all of whom he described as clean and manly. "They played clean and sportsmanlike throughout the season. I desire to commend the players for fair play in the games as expressive of a clean life," Mr. Appel said. "What the world needs more than anything else is cleanliness. Crime caused by uncleanness is transmitted not only to the third and fourth generations but to all generations. If the world gets right again it will be through the medium of righteousness. All should stand for cleanliness in the athletics of life."

Captain Baesman, in a short talk, dwelt on the prospects and hopes of the team for next season, saying that they hoped to make an even greater record. He outlined a tentative schedule showing that a large number of crack college and independent fives will be met on the court. The closing talk of the evening was made by Coach Harry Wagner, to whom a large part of the credit for the team's success is due. He said that it was a comparatively easy matter to coach the Selects because the players were all in harmony and willing to cooperate in any way.

Grand Jury Returns 18 Indictments

The grand jury finished its inquiry and reported to Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court shortly before five o'clock Thursday afternoon, returning eighteen indictments. This was made possible by the diligence of the jurors spending the one-day session and they established a record considering the volume of business handled. The report showed that the jury has before it twenty-eight witnesses covering twenty cases under investigation, and found 18 true bills, ignored one case and pressed another for further investigation. Of the true bills returned twelve were held secret pending the arrest of the persons named and the other six were made public because the persons are either in custody or out on bond. They were as follows: Ralph York, carrying concealed deadly weapons; Dade Caldwell, disturbing religious worship; Donald Hunt, obtaining money under false pretenses; John Clark, robbery; Albert Anderson, issuing invalid check; Bruce Davis, alias William Smith, alias David Damron, for writing invalid check; Case ignored: George Emmett assault and battery. The jury also presented the court a "Special Report" in which they made various recommendations, among the most important of which was that the county should have a new court house and jail to meet the growing importance and volume of public business. The special report in full is as follows: "We, the grand jury in session in common with the action of all grand juries in the past 25 years, not only go on record as in favor of a new court house and jail, but we recommend and urge that the County Commissioners take such action looking to the placing of the question before the people at the coming fall election. We also approve and heartily recommend that the County Commissioners take some action looking to the payment of fines imposed on prisoners by working them upon the public highways or in preparing some material for use thereon. We visited the county jail and in our opinion the building is a relic of the dark ages. We found the prisoners as well kept and fed as possible under present conditions and especially commend Sheriff Ticker and his deputy, B. F. Bennett, for their splendid work in bringing law violators to justice. We found 25 prisoners in jail. We commend the court in its laudable effort to bring about the elimination of grade crossings in the vicinity of Otway, Henley and Raden. We are heartily in accord with the effort being made by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the attempt to have the Ohio State Highway Commission make such changes in the proposed paving of the road on the West Side as will meet with the approval of the people generally." The reports were signed by George F. Jenkins, foreman.

Bally-Hoo Man Despised Is Important Part Of Circus

WOODWARD'S POSING HORSES

Hurry, hurry, we're going to feed the Wild Man! Stand closer to the platform. All of which concerns the Bally-Hoo man. An unexploited member of the circus life he is, working day and night, his lungs, his throat slowly turning to leather that the wonders beneath the canvas may be told of. And just as the great canyons are needed, so is he needed. Thus it is that soon there will come the sound of his voice, the tapping of his cane and his appeals to the on-looker to "step aside." For on Thursday, April 27, the Sparks Big Circus comes to Portsmouth for a day's visit on the base ball grounds. According to the most iron-clad promises of those in advance of the circus, it has almost doubled in size since its last visit here—in fact, it now stands as one of the very leaders in the "Big Show" class. This season's features include the Midge Fuller group of performing elephants, the Sparks dancing horses, Woodward's statuesque posing horses and English setters, Hurd's performing pigs, Capt. Tabor's musical and acrobatic soles and sea-lions, "the act beautiful," Miss Laverne Venable and her troupe of trained pigeons, the riding lancers and many other wild and domestic trained animal numbers. The thrillers will be furnished by the Flying Walters in a thrilling aerial bar novelty, the great Charline in his famous roller skate head slide from the top of the large tent and the daring little Japanese artist, Kaihei, who walks up a flight of steps while balanced on his dome.

LOCAL BOY IS IN SENIOR CLASS

The University News of Cincinnati had the following in a recent issue under the headline "Portsmouth Senior Has Interesting Life":

The Senior Class of the Medical College has for a member this year a representative of Portsmouth, Ohio. Harold A. Sherman was born Jan. 29, 1907. He attended the public schools of his native town, and graduated with a High School diploma in 1921. During the Junior year, he decided to adopt the medical profession as a life work, and accordingly, he began Pre-Medical work at the University of Cincinnati in the fall of 1921. After completing the requirements necessary for admission to the Medical School, Under Sam's demands for soldiers interrupted plans for the completion of his education. "Shorty," as he is best known to friends and classmates, entered the service in Sept. 1918, and remained at Camp Sherman until December of that year, after which he returned to Cincinnati and entered the Medical School.

Shorty is one of those quiet fellows who say little, but accomplish much without undue demonstration of ability. He worked in the Jewish Hospital during the summer of 1918, and has been a student intern at the Cincinnati Hospital since the fall of 1921. Sherman received a B.S. degree from the University in 1921, and is a charter member of the Kappa Psi Medical Fraternity. He has not definitely decided as yet upon a hospital for internship.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, wees, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Can you give me a remedy for "sneaky" put-on shoes? Mine are regular monkey shoes. HOMER.

Sneaky shoes are an affliction, but may be easily cured. The remedy I apply was given by an old German cobbler and it has never failed. Everybody ought to know about it. Here it is: Take a fairly rough new brick, the newer the better, and rub the soles vigorously from the toes downward, never upward, being careful not to abrade the polished edges. With some sharp instrument, a knife will do, make many transverse and crosswise cuts, not too deep, on the soles. Put water into an old wash boiler to the depth of a little less than the thickness of the soles and set the shoes in it gently to avoid splashing, and let them stand overnight. In the morning rub the soles energetically twenty minutes with a wooden rug dipped in a mixture of one part sweet oil, two parts asafetida and one part gasoline. Then take the shoes down in the cellar and throw them in the furnace. In half hour the squeaks will be gone. Another way is to drive a peg in the center of the soles; or soak the soles in water.

Miss Dolly Wise—if a man is engaged in Ohio and his wife sues him for divorce and alimony how much can she collect for each child she has each month and if their home is in Kentucky.

WAX TO KNOW.

The court will have to decide the amount of alimony she is to get.

Dear Dolly—I know a company that beat the government out of several hundred dollars of taxes and I want to report them. Who shall I consult? R. O. D.

Report them to the county treasurer at the Court House or the collector of Internal Revenue, Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am a poor, hard working widow, and I have myself and my children to support and I haven't time to do anything around the house and mind my own business and I wish other people would do the same. Dolly, I am not able to do any thing for my house and I don't have time to clean things up, so I paper it with newspapers and whitewashed the ceiling. Dolly, people seem to think this is a crime the way they stand out in front of my house and stare in. People even say their automobiles in front of my place and gaze in. Dolly you would be surprised at the people that are in the machines too. Some of them ought to be at home taking care of their husbands and wives. I got these automobiles. Even if I am not rich I have a thing or two and I know every person who stops in front of my house. They had better take my advice and move on.

INDIGNANT WOMAN.

If the people are gazing into your house don't like the way it is papered you can buy you some "fancy paper" and pay someone for hanging it. Some people are always taking the joy out of life.

Dear Dolly—I wish the person on Front street who called 841-L a short time ago to call that number again and she will learn something that will benefit her.

THE ONE SHE CALLED.

Dear Miss Wise—I have written a picture play and I want you to tell me who I could send it to if I want to sell it.

SCENARIO WRITER.

You might try Charles Walton, 245 West 14th street, New York City.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Who goes there?" demanded the falcon

THE furious falcon was strutting up and down the top of the thick stone wall which surrounded King Indig's Palace. It was a huge bird, bright red, and as large as 10 eagles. Moreover, it was as good as an army, for every feather in his big strong wings was made of steel, and sharp pointed like arrows. These he had the power to shoot, a hundred at a time if need be, or a thousand, if a powerful enemy should come near.

As the falcon walked up and down over the high gate that led into the palace gardens he kept peering about in all directions, being able to see for miles and to shoot as far as he could see. Moreover his arrows returned instantly to their places so that he never ran out of a supply. He was the only guard that King Indig had—or needed—and every one, including the king's subjects, were afraid of him.

"Who goes there?" demanded the falcon when Nancy and Nick, accompanied by a crowd of the blue-headed Diddlers, arrived at the gate.

"We're not going," said Nick. "We're coming. May we see King Indig?"

Instantly the Diddlers began to groan with fear. It was the first time in the memory of their oldest inhabitant that anyone had dared to contradict this most respected guard of the king's gate.

"I think you may," replied the falcon with a snap of his great beak. "For he will have you beheaded instantly and that's what you need!"

"Then we couldn't finish our journey," Nancy informed him placidly. "What journey?"

"To the Korksnotts."

"Ha!" shrieked the falcon. "You shall be twice beheaded for mentioning our enemies."

Woman Is Found Guilty; Charges Against Pastor Of Colored Church Dismissed; Testimony Limited

With the court room crowded to the doors with persons interested in the details of the trial of Georgia Hollingsworth, colored, charged with assault and disorderly conduct, and Rev. Norman W. Brown, pastor of Allen Chapel, charged with disorderly conduct by Mrs. Anna Belle Penman, only a few minutes were consumed in introduction of witnesses and testimony and the trial was soon over, with Miss Hollingsworth found guilty of technically assaulting Mrs. Penman. The long drawn out hearing of testimony as to what caused the trouble, expected by the big crowd, failed to materialize. Judge Stanley McCall handling the case in a manner that quickly disposed of it. Testimony was confined to the exact trouble that occurred in the church and testimony as to what first started the trouble was ruled out as unnecessary.

The disorderly conduct charge against Rev. Brown was dismissed as was the disorderly charge against Miss Hollingsworth, who was fined $5 and costs, the costs being suspended. Judge McCall also handing out some words of advice to the church members, urging them to show their Christian spirit by waiving the collection of witness fees and to go back and get together for the good of the church. Both sides said that they thought it would be possible to dismiss the trouble and to go ahead with their Christian work in the church as if nothing had happened.

The assault upon Mrs. Penman occurred last Monday night at Allen Chapel church. Wednesday Mrs. Penman filed charges against Miss Hollingsworth and Rev. Brown. Attorney H. A. Taylor represented Mrs. Penman and Attorney S. A. Skelton, Miss Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Penman was the first called to the witness chair. Attorney Taylor first questioned her and was followed by Attorney Skelton. Mrs. Penman replied to her attorney's questions as follows:

"There was a fight there that night, not a fight either, for I was attacked. I had put on my coat, picked up my books and umbrella and started out when she (Miss Hollingsworth) grabbed hold of my hair. I hit her with the umbrella and then she scratched my face."

Mrs. Penman then exhibited the strands of hair she claimed Miss Hollingsworth had pulled from her head, explaining that the hair fell out the next morning when she combed her hair.

Laughter filled the court room when Judge McCall asked if the hair was a hair net or her own hair, to which Mrs. Penman replied, "Yes, sir, my own hair, pulled from my head."

Continuing her testimony, she said: "I was there to report for my Circle. I was on my way out when she grabbed me. Somebody, Ethel Johnson, grabbed my umbrella after I struck at the woman. Miss Johnson said for her to hit me again, it was what I needed. She made another grab at me. I did not fight back. After we were separated I said I would call my husband. I went into the chair room to use the phone and Rev. Brown followed me in and took it away from me saying that I could not call from there. I was so excited I don't know whether there were any loud cries or not."

Attorney Skelton then questioned her. She replied: "I am sure it is my hair. My hair does not come out easily. I thought she was pulling my head off. I never opened my mouth to her. I did not strike at her until after she grabbed me. She pulled my hair before I struck. She came up from the rear. I don't know why she did it."

Mrs. Mary Wade, 1223 Thirtieth street, was the first witness for Mrs. Penman. "I know them through the church. I was at the church that night when the girl Georgia attacked Mrs. Penman. I heard Miss Hollingsworth say she would whip Mrs. Penman that night before she left there. I did not see her strike Mrs. Penman, but I did see her pull her hair. Mrs. Penman was in the act of going out. Yes, it attracted many from the outside. It must have been the trouble. She gave her hair three hard jerks and Mrs. Penman yelled: 'Turn my hair loose.' There were no words between them. I don't believe Mrs. Penman heard the remarks about her. When I went to help Mrs. Penman, John Evans had his hand on her hair."

Mrs. Laura E. Rowe, 1122 Fifteenth street, was the next witness. She said: "We were there in official meeting. I heard Miss Hollingsworth say she was going to whip her. I started home when the racket started. Yes, I did hear the threat." Mrs. Rowe claimed she did not see the actual trouble between the two women.

Julia Mae Robinson, 1308 Union street, then took the witness chair. "Yes, I saw the attack. Miss Hollingsworth came up behind her, said something and then grabbed her hair. I saw Mrs. Penman strike at her then. Earlier I had heard Miss Hollingsworth say she would whip her. Indeed, I did see her have her hand in her hair. Mrs. Penman struck at her. I don't know whether she hit her or not."

The next witness called was Mrs. Amy McFarland. She said: "When Mrs. Penman went into the chair room to use the phone, Rev. Brown took it away from her and put it on the bookcase. I saw Mrs. Penman going out. I was within three feet of her when Miss Hollingsworth grabbed her by her hair. No, Mrs. Penman did not strike her before she hit her or not."

Mrs. Fannie Harris, 1016 Eleventh street, then took the stand. She testified: "I was at the church at the time of the trouble. When Mrs. Penman reached over to pick up her books or something, Miss Hollingsworth grabbed her by the hair. Mrs. Penman struck at her once."

Attorney Skelton then asked that the charge against Rev. Brown be dismissed as there was no evidence against him. The charge was dismissed by Judge McCall.

Miss Hollingsworth was called to the stand by her attorney. She gave her address as 1246 Second street. She said: "I was at the church Monday night. I went there to make a report for my Circle. When Mrs. Penman started rushing out all excited, I grabbed her by the hair. It was the first place I could get hold of. She hit me on the arm with her umbrella. I admit I grabbed her first. I did say once I was going to whip her."

Judge McCall then said it was useless and a waste of time to hear other witnesses as the defendant frankly admitted she was guilty of a technical assault. Judge McCall then added: "I think you people out there should get together. There is probably some factional trouble out there, but that should be forgotten so you can get together. This factional feeling has caused considerable feeling in the past and it would be fine for all of you to exercise your Christian spirit instead of fighting about it. The court advised the two sides to patch up their differences for the good of the church and both said that they thought it could be done."

All witnesses said they were willing to waive their fees so there would be no costs.

After the trial Mrs. Penman had the following statement to make in public: "My husband and I went to Rev. Brown and tried to settle this trouble after Monday night's happening, but the pastor said that it should be aired in court. I have no ill-will toward any of them. This is the first trouble I have ever been in and am sorry it went as far as it did, for it could have been settled in the church."

Unions Clash Over Control Of Strike

LAWRENCE, Mass., April 14.—The controversy between the United Textile Workers of America and the One Big Union, which has developed out of their contest for control of the textile strikers here, promises to spread to other places. With the announcement today that the U. T. W. had been granted a permit for a tag day at Peabody tomorrow to raise funds for strikers' relief, Ben Legere, leader of the O. B. U., announced that his forces would send a committee to Peabody which, with sympathizers there, would attempt to minimize the contributions to the other organization.

The O. B. U. is circulating city and town governments in an effort to prevent further tag day permits for the U. T. W., claiming that that organization is not representative of the main body of striking operatives.

There is at present a vast increase in the number of students coming to higher educational institutions. Dr. Buckingham said, "coming in larger and larger numbers from accredited high schools and possessing inferior intellectual endowments. These institutions of higher education must do better teaching. Not for long can the process of dismissing incompetent students be continued."

"There must be an overhauling," continued the speaker, "of the offering of these institutions."

There must be an overhauling, continued the speaker, "of the offering of these institutions."

Air Claims On Certain Invention

COLUMBUS, O., April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Conducting claims regarding the origin of certain inventions, involved in the affairs of a number of companies formed by L. A. Subers, of Cleveland, and others, were made at a hearing today before State Securities Commissioner Stewart. The hearing was convened by the application of Subers for the certification of stock in a new company that is being formed.

Represented at the hearing were the Erie Tire and Rubber Company, American Rubber Products Company, and the Subers Tire and Rubber Company, all advancing some claim in the title and ownership of the patents, which Mr. Subers obtained on his inventions.

The validity of his claim as the originator of a new fabric designed for use in high pressure fire hose, air-brake hose and auto tires, was questioned by a representative of several of the other companies, who charged that documents in his possession set forth the claims of one John T. Lister, of Wellington, Ohio, as inventor and partner of Subers originally. This Mr. Subers denied, alleging that his claim to the invention is clear and that he has documents in Cleveland to prove it. He was asked to provide these documents for the inspection of the department.

It was shown at the hearing that Mr. Subers contemplates the organization of a company with a capitalization of $5,000,000 to take over the manufacture of the fabric and machinery necessary to its production, and that he is to receive $1,500,000 of the stock of the new concern, while $1,000,000 of the stock is to be issued to stockholders in the old concerns interested in the proposition.

Loading Figures Show Increase
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 14.—Loading figures from the two main coal fields in the section, indicated a slight increase in production in the Kanawha field were not only tangible evidence of strike operations in southern West Virginia but also indicated that the situation was virtually managed according to reports of operators and union officials.

Shed Off Edward Lacks, of Jefferson county, Ohio, according to reports reaching Wheeling, W. Va., left Sunday late yesterday for a trip of the stranger mine regions of the county for the purpose of personally investigating reports that many miners were preparing to conduct marches in mines and to that carried out on the Bohman mine Wednesday.

BUY HAVECOTTE PROPERTY; WILL PLAT IT

An important real estate deal was closed Thursday when the Hazelbeck Company, through its treasurer and manager, William C. Hazelbeck, announced the purchase of the George and Henry Hazelbeck land, lying east of Cedar Boulevard and joining a seven acre tract already owned by the Hazelbeck Company, and uniting with the Micklethwait Addition, north of Grandview Avenue. The new purchase consists of 29 acres, which will give the Hazelbeck Company a tract consisting of 27 acres of the choicest building lots in the city. For many years real estate men have been casting covetous eyes at the Hazelbeck property. It is regarded as an ideal site for homes, requiring practically no grading and being located in such close proximity. Mr. Hazelbeck admitted that he had been on a deal for the property for a long time and is congratulating himself and company that the deal was final.

It is stated that the extension of the paving of Grandview Avenue will be started within a very short time. It will go on through the Micklethwait and Hazelbeck additions and reach the Dorman property on the north. This will make Grandview one of the longest streets in the city. With the new addition, the Hilltop will no doubt grow gradually, for all who are acquainted with the Hazelbeck property have long contended it is one of the most desirable residential sections of the city.

The Hazelbeck Company is composed of Frank L. Marling, George A. Goodman, Dr. W. D. Tromper, Miss Margaret Balmert, John M. Wendleken and William C. Hazelbeck.

Auto Victim Better

Russell Hamilton, seven-year-old son of Mrs. Hamilton, of New Boston, who was seriously injured Wednesday morning when run down by a speeding automobile in front of his home, was reported much better at Hempstead hospital today.

Elizabeth, 5 years old, daughter of Dr. R. W. DeCraw, county health commissioner, Seabrook, was operated upon Thursday for appendicitis. The little patient rallied nicely from the ordeal and her condition was reported as entirely favorable today.

GRANGE NEWS

Ohio Valley Grange No. 2355 met Thursday night, April 6th, in regular session, with Floyd Lavender, master, presiding.

The applications of Elbert Moore and Fred Platt were received for membership. The lecture hour, which was in charge of Mrs. William Turner, was enjoyed by all and was very interesting. It consisted of the following: Illustration, "Why I Left the Farm," by John Tipton; Discussion, "Is Success On the Farm Due to the Location of the Farm or the Farmer?" Leader, Howard Campbell. "Tell About Some of the Needs and Reforms in the Thrashing Industry" was discussed by several women members. "How Can We Beautify Our Farm Home and Surroundings?" was discussed in general.

One of the wives of the Grange is organizing a brass band under the leadership of William Turner. Several of the members already have their instruments and in the near future will commence taking lessons. One of the features of the next meeting will be an egg drive. Each member is urged to bring at least a dozen of eggs at the next meeting. They will be sold and the proceeds will be applied to the charity fund to be applied to appeals for aid from other Granges. Several talks for the good of the order were made by the master and members, after which the Grange closed.

Easter Calls and Even nature Responds with New Attire

It isn't just because it is Easter that folks have a custom of putting on new attire, it is the natural tendency in the Spring of the year, of all things with life. The trees shoot forth their leaves; the flowers reach up and unfold their petals to drink in the warm sunshine; the grass begins to take on new life, carpeting the earth everywhere with its prettiest shade of green; the birds that have been driven away by winter's cold have returned and are bursting their throats with song and the whole world seems to have put on brighter garb—to have entered into a more joyous spirit.

Is it any wonder, then, that folks lay aside the sombre apparel of winter for the lighter and more colorful garb of spring?

To dress up at Easter time is but keeping in step with the spirit of all Nature.

To assist you in complying with that natural instinct to dress in new apparel at Easter time, we offer a store full of Easter apparel and accessories for man, woman and child.

Your Easter shopping will be satisfactory if done at Anderson's tomorrow.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor The Portsmouth Daily Times:

Sir:—Once again with pleasure and joy, I as a Christian worker for a cleaner city and village, ask your permission for a few lines in answer to the letter signed U. D. C.

Now, it is my desire to ask you, and thank you heartily for the kindness of publishing my last letter. I wish to say the following to "U. D. C.": It is my desire to be heartily friendly to every person that does the will of Our Heavenly Father, for God is love, and I have to love your soul if I do not partake of the damnable and destructive powers of the adversary, which perhaps you partake of or you uphold.

Now, I answer this letter with joy, for our beloved St. Paul says that he counted it all joy.

You desire plain talk and I desire to please you for the sake of your soul and I do not cast pearls before swine in so doing as I make this answer an invitation to all Christian people of city and village.

As I believe that they cast their votes in the wet and dry election to save our dear boys, I invite you and them to cast your vote, or opinion I will say, where it will be beneficial to save our dear boys and girls from these damnable places of destruction and their agents which claim the honorable names of humans.

For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark—Matthew 24, 38.

Now I suppose that you will do the same, or perhaps when you are placed upon your bed of affliction you will cry out to the Lord with a piteous "Lord have mercy upon me," or will you be able to stand up in spirit and face the demon whom you have been serving and say we have been hums. We have drunk and danced together and now we will take a dip together in the place called hell.

Now I do not judge you, for I am any other Christian will know you by the fruit that you bring forth.

Now you speak of the demon using scripture to an advantage for argument. Now he may use the words, but not the meaning.

"If I have told you earthly things and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of Heavenly things?"—St. John, 3, 12.

Therefore, Mr. U. D. C., you or any one else knows nothing of the meaning of the Scriptures unless you have received the second birth. My prayer for you is that the eyes of your soul may be opened that you may behold the Heavenly Defenders as the youth did which Elisha prayed for.

Now, perhaps, I gave you a shock that fit when I said perhaps this couple would have fought if it had not been on the street, and perhaps, I will give you another fit when I say that the gentleman said that he would beat her if she did not shut up and she said it would not be the

U. S. Foreign Trade Booms

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Increase in the value of America's foreign trade was reported today by the department of commerce with an announcement that exports last month aggregated $332,000,000, the highest since October, 1921, and that imports totaled $258,000,000, the greatest since December, 1920.

The trade balance of $74,000,000 in favor of the United States shown by the figures is the greatest since November, 1921, when the total was $83,000,000. The trade balance in February was $35,000,000, and in March, 1921, $135,000,000.

Freight Train Stripped Of Contents

RELFAS, April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—A freight train of thirty cars was stripped of its contents by armed men at Mullingar yesterday evening.

Bales of cloth and large quantities of foodstuffs, linen and a number of bicycles were transferred to commandeered lorries and carried away. The transfer occupied four hours. Ammunition from Cavan, belonging to the disbanded police, was removed in sacks.

This was the sixth similar raid within a fortnight.

Rid Yourself of Constipation With a Delicious Nature Food!

Constipation can be relieved permanently in the simplest way imaginable. If you will eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, regularly, you will find yourself freed from this annoying and dangerous condition. Your physician will endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation. We guarantee that it will give permanent relief provided you eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily. For chronic cases, eat as much as is necessary. Besides, it will free the breath from disagreeable intestinal odors and clear up pimply skins!

You should know all about Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. It is not only a wonderfully beneficial nature food, but it is a delicious cereal, eaten as a cereal with milk or cream and sugar, or sprinkled on your favorite cereal. Kellogg's Bran is used in the preparation of many delectable foods such as raisin bread, muffins, macaroons, pancakes, etc., for its nut-like flavor as well as for its remarkable health qualities.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleanses and purifies the bowels without irritation or discomfort. It is as beneficial for children as for older people. It does wonderful work for everybody.

Pills and cathartics are dangerous to health because they irritate the delicate intestinal passages. And, they never can and never will give permanent relief. Their action is only temporary at best. What you need is permanent relief from constipation. And, you can get it with the regular use of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Your grocer has it.

Thousands of housewives always look for the name Libby on milk.

For that name is the mark of highest quality; it is backed by a world-wide reputation.

Libby's Milk is pure cows' milk, double-rich, because more than half the natural moisture is removed by evaporation; cows' milk with nothing added and only water removed. And it comes to you sealed air-tight in cans marked Libby's.

Good Friday

This Friday is called Good Friday because Jesus Christ died for us and by His death showed His great love for man and purchased for him every blessing. The chief sufferings of Christ were as agony and bloody sweat in the garden; His scourging at the court; His crowning with thorns and His crucifixion. Christ died about Calvary, a small eminence outside the walls of Jerusalem. He was nailed to the cross at noon. He hung for three hours. At three o'clock, Jesus Christ was crucified between two thieves. He suffered and died for our sins. Christ suffered and died as man, because as God, He could not suffer. His sufferings, death being those of the God-Man had an infinite value. From sufferings and death of Christ we should learn the great evil in the hatred God bears to it, and the necessity of satisfying it.

Sunday School Lesson

REV. LEWIS N. KAYSER
THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS

Golden text: "The Lord is risen indeed."—Luke 24:34.
The resurrection occurred April 9, A. D. 30. We are told that there was a great earthquake and the angel whose countenance was like lightning, came and rolled the stone away from the door of the tomb, not to let Jesus come forth, but in order that those who came to the tomb might be taught that the resurrection was an act of divine power.

In our lesson we have a recorded fact that Jesus arose from the grave. His appearance to His disciples and many others, also the new life he gave to His disciple after His resurrection, together with the existence of the Christian church, are evidences of His resurrected life. The plan of salvation would be incomplete without a risen Lord. The fact that Christianity has made great advancements during the recent years not only proves a risen Lord, but a living Christ. The foregoing proves to us that the resurrection is an historic fact.

On the first Easter morning the women visit the tomb at dawn with their spices to complete the burial. Three women except at break of day. Arose along the shadowy way. Where Joseph's tomb and garden lay.

Each in her throbbing bosom bore A burden of such fragrant store As never there had lain before.

Spices, the purest, richest, best, That e'er the musky East possessed, From Ind to Arafah the blessed.

Rare gifts whose chiefest worth was priced By this one thought, that all subdued Their spices have been bruised for Christ.

Margaret T. Preston.
When Mary Magdalene discovered that the tomb was open she hastened to tell Peter and John, who hastened to the tomb. Jesus speaks to Mary and while the other women are returning to the city Jesus met them and said, "All hail!" During the morning hours he also appeared unto Peter making his first morning a very busy one. In the afternoon of the first day he joined himself with the two travelers on their way to Emmaus.

In verses 10 and 20 of our lesson He makes His fifth appearance on the first Easter day and this was in the evening as His disciples were assembled together in seclusion because of fear. It would have been unwise at this time to be found worshipping together because the leading Jews were still breathing out wrath to all that seemed to be in sympathy with Jesus and especially since He has risen and the disciples were being accused of stealing Him away. Yet their leader appears to them and gives his encouragement to the discouraged group.

The latter part of our lesson would not have been necessary if it had not been for the doubting and careless member of the disciple board. Had Thomas been where he should have been, this extra trail of our Lord might have been eliminated, and yet it teaches His disciples as well as it does us that He still loves and is long-suffering with all.

A Calvary without a resurrection would have lost its significance in the great plan of redemption. While the blood of the Cross takes away the sin of the world, the resurrected Lord and living Christ is at the right hand of God, ever ready and willing to make intercession for those who have claimed their redemption through His blood. "And if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins."

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It Is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—advertisement.

Troop 3 Wins Championship

Troop 3 closed their basketball season, by winning the championship of the Junior League, when they defeated Troop 11 last night in the deciding game by the score of 34 to 11. Howard Hunter was the undoubted star of the game, scoring 18 points and playing a fine game throughout. Saddle did almost as well, scoring 12 points. Green played a great game at center against a tall opponent, and shot two baskets, while Kaylor and Allard played great games at guard.

Troop 11 played a good clean game throughout, but they had lost the edge of their shooting ability, shooting constantly for the basket, but being able to find it only once in the first half.

Troop 3 will celebrate at the home of one of the team on Wednesday night with a big chocolate cake, and a quart of ice cream apiece.

Have Single Standard Of Morality

CHICAGO, April 14.—The single standard of morality has been put into effect by the city health department. Dr. H. N. Banderson, health commissioner, announced today. Hereafter, Dr. Banderson announced, men and women brought to the department through violations of the moral code will be treated alike—isolated in the city hospital. Heretofore the men have been released.

The rule went into effect when the father of a girl was permitted to pass sentence on a boy who was believed to have communicated a disease to her. The girl had been isolated. Dr. Banderson called in the young man and the girl's father decided that the boy, son of a wealthy furrier, should be treated the same as the girl—forced to remain in the hospital until cured.

A craze for black jewelry and ornaments has taken a firm hold on the fashionable women in Paris.

Floral Ball On Display

The Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, of which the Hervis Floral Company is a member, was the inspiration for a most attractive window display in the Sixth street store of the Hervis company. A four foot ball depicting the earth with continents and islands made of immortelles in various colors revolves slowly. Most of the larger island groups are also shown, even the small, but important island of Yap being given distinct notice. The ocean is of green woods moss.

The design is the work of Albert Toombs and is of high merit. Crowds all day long watch it with interest, school children being especially attracted by it. A system of wires lead from America to the various continents and islands of the globe, thus depicting how one may order and pay for flowers at Hervis and have the flowers delivered in distant parts of the world.

Exactly What Makes Us Laugh and Cry

Some Curious New Scientific Discoveries About a Mysterious Secretion in the Diaphragm Which "Registers" Our Emotions Even When We Try to Hide Them.

The Artificial Way to Laugh and Cry. This Unusual Photograph Shows How Smiling and Scowling Faces Are Made Up for the Stage. Cover One-Half of This Face at the Vertical Centre Line with Your Hand, Then Move Your Hand Over to Cover the Other Half and Note the Remarkable Difference a Few Wrinkles and a Drooping Mouth Will Make.

MOST folk probably would prefer first to learn just what makes us laugh. For, after all, laughter is the most sought-after and the most pleasing of human emotions. The man who can make others laugh is indeed fortunate. The comic artist and the comedian both reap rich harvests for their work.

But even though we prefer to hear of laughter rather than weeping, we should not be a bit surprised to learn that both are caused by the same thing—muscular action. Aside from the psychological cause of it—the uttered joke or the absurd image flashing on the brain through the eye or the sudden sensation of tickling, which impel the brain to transform potential energy into kinetic energy and to shoot activating secretions into the blood streams to cause muscular action—it is purely mechanical, after all.

A laugh has been defined as the sudden transformation of all our expectations into nothing. In other words, our emotions having been played on to the breaking point, a sudden ludicrous thing occurs or is shown and the muscular energy which was innately striving to help or hurt seeking release finds no place to go. Its vent is laughter. Instead of us rushing to do something we sit back and laugh—in other words, allow the keyed-up muscles to perform their function in this fashion.

Crying Is Good Exercise

The relationship between laughter and weeping might be seen in the comforting assurance of the expert physician to the weeping parents of the crying baby. He tells them that the "baby must cry at least an hour a day for exercise." Which also explains what the doctor means when he says that laughter is good for grown-ups. It sort of exercises the muscles, stirs the lubricating secretions around a bit, and drives the rheumatism away. Laugh and grow fat is a fact.

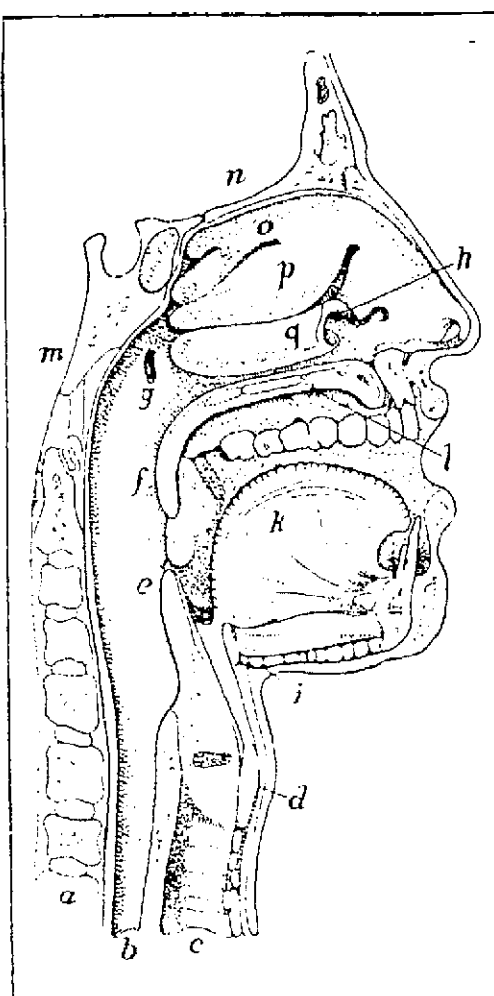

Another fact that shows the process of laughing and weeping are both muscular is the part the diaphragm plays in both acts. This is nothing more than a great flat muscle the size of a man's hand and shaped like a fluke which lies below the heart and over the stomach bag. When the cry or the laugh begins, or even the tickle, the brain then releases the activating secretions that cause this to work, spasmodically in laughter, regularly in weeping. The influence of this organ on speech is shown in the case of the stammerer. Stammering, often confused with stuttering, is really a disease of the diaphragm. Through nervousness the diaphragm "jams." It does not work freely and the speaker, his lungs ready to send forth the sounds of speech and his throat and lips in correct position, suddenly finds he is bereft of "wind" just because that diaphragm hasn't done its duty. At the time the stammerer feels an itch in his stomach, which really is not in his stomach at all.

Thus it is this "activating secretions" which causes both laughter or weeping. It is a great mystery. And how it works, its anatomical structure and how it prevails are two of its marvelous features. It is as mysterious as the thyroid gland and the pituitary gland and other of the great secrets of life when the scientists have only recently succeeded in properly classifying such responses in the human organism.

Laughter and crying are involuntary actions, they are as natural as breathing, and are caused by secretions as abnormal forms of respiration. Under this classification come the laugh, cry, sob, sneeze, yawn, snore and cough. It is easy to imitate or fake all of these sounds, but exceedingly difficult, sometimes impossible, to do so convincingly. We instantly recognize a false, or, as we say, an affected cough. A fake sneeze is practically out of the question. A convincing imitation of a sob is almost equally difficult. The famous sobbing note with which Caruso ended one of his most popular songs came very near convincing us of its sincerity, but all his art could not quite put it over.

When you laugh you first unconsciously make your vocal chords tense and then hold them so. A person with a lively sense of humor will, of course, break out into a laugh instantaneously. This movement of the vocal chords is done in the slightest fraction of a second. One does not even stop to inhale breath before laughing. There may be no time for that. To see the point of a joke, or the humor in some situation, a laugh must come without an appreciable delay.

The sound of laughter is caused by a series of short expiratory blasts of air driven out by the lungs. The face meanwhile, more or less voluntarily, assumes a characteristic expression. The act of laughing being essentially involuntary, is often entirely beyond control. For this reason it can only be imitated imperfectly. An artificial laugh, as we say, does not ring true. To laugh naturally is a very simple and enjoyable sensation. It is a very difficult matter, however, voluntarily to hold the vocal chords tense and produce just the right note upon them.

What Produces the Sob

Although we speak of a person bursting out crying, the act is more deliberate than a laugh. The act of crying consists of taking first a deep inspiration and then emitting it in a prolonged expiration. The glottis meanwhile is held partially open. The whole action is much slower than in the case of a laugh. Like the laugh, the act is essentially involuntary, and is very difficult to imitate naturally. It is accompanied by a contraction of several muscles of the face.

When this act of crying is long-continued it leads to sobbing, which is an entirely different operation. Sobbing is caused by the sudden contraction of the diaphragm. This in turn causes a sudden inspiration of the breath. The sound familiarly known as sobbing is caused by this movement of the air snaked into the larynx.

A sigh is a much simpler affair. Although everyone feels it, it is probable that few have ever stopped to analyze the act. It consists of a sudden inspiration of air which is produced for an appreciable time and after a long pause is exhaled.

A snore on the other hand is much easier to imitate. It is caused by the unusually long, steady and prolonged inspiration through the open mouth. The current of air entering the lungs sets in vibration the soft palate, and this in turn gives out the curious note which is quickly recognized. This note varies considerably, being influenced by the individual form of the throat and palate.

The act of yawning may be easily feigned. It consists of a long, deep inspiration followed by a short expiration. The mouth meanwhile is held open, as is the glottis. A hiccup is an inspiration which is suddenly checked by closing the glottis. It is due to the spasmodic closing of the diaphragm. The sound thus made is very characteristic. Once started, the involuntary motion of the diaphragm may be continued indefinitely and is very hard to check.

There are a great many so-called cures for the hiccup, incidentally, such as holding the breath, looking up at the ceiling while making desperate efforts to swallow, and so on. A severe case of hiccups may sometimes be cured by giving the victim a sudden surprise or shock. None of these cures, however, gets at the root of the trouble.

The scientific cure is to prevent the contraction of the diaphragm. This may be done by pressing the floating rib of the patient. The contraction of the diaphragm is caused by the agitation of a nerve connected with it. The hiccup of a drunken man is explained by the fact that an excessive quantity of alcohol poisons this nerve, thus causing an abnormal activity.

Hasn't Looked in the Mirror for 20 Years

FOR twenty years Miss Ida M. Sandborn of Chicago hasn't looked in a mirror to comb her hair or powder her nose or put on her hat.

For twenty years Dr. Sandborn has not consulted the looking-glass even when buying millinery or trying on a new gown.

Still, this somewhat remarkable woman is always well-dressed and of a pleasing appearance. Her black serge skirts are never shiny and her sensible black walking shoes are always neat and square at the heels.

She is one of Chicago's best-known physicians and she says she hasn't time for any reflections, facial or otherwise.

Dr. Sandborn has not taken a vow against seeing her face or buying clothes or anything of the kind. It is a simple, even if resolute, determination to attend to business and that only.

Twenty years ago Dr. Sandborn came to the conclusion that she would rather be a successful scientist and physician than to be a really dressy woman. She was more interested in prolonging and preserving life than in spending hers on inconsequential externals.

"I have read somewhere or heard it said," remarked Dr. Sandborn, "that a good many business and professional women spend more time powdering their noses and arranging their hair, and shopping, than they do on their work. That they are busier being women than in being business people. But I am sure this isn't often true. Where your biggest interest is, there you will put your attention."

"Why do women spend so much time over dress—and in front of mirrors? Is it to get the attention of men or to impress women? Is it a sense of romance that accounts for French hats and trick shoes? I think the answer is that most women dress for their own satisfaction, more than to please or astonish other men or other women. Otherwise you cannot account for the lacy intimate things they spend so much money on and that only they are conscious of. It would be just as sensible for a woman to make eating or sleeping a life aim as to let dressing dominate her days. Dressing up is not my idea of a career."

The real story back of Dr. Sandborn and her devotion to work is something she does not often talk about.

There was a man, of course, very, very many years ago. But he died and all of the transitory things were blown away, and Miss Sandborn, she was a cartoonist then, decided to go into medicine.

And then when she was still such a very young physician that she was too shy to hang out her shingle before her office, her father came to her point of death. She decided that she would devote every energy to saving his life—to studying and analyzing and finding a cure for diabetes that would save his life.

She says she found it—and after having such a big tussle with death, could not be interested much in clothes.

Miss Sandborn's concentrated attention to her work has borne fruit. The news of the remedy that she sat up nights discovering for her father went abroad, and now she is head of a great laboratory for the treatment of diabetes and kindred diseases.

"But my clothes do not just happen," admits Miss Sandborn. "There is a milliner who sends me hats and a tailor who sends a new skirt every so often, and a shoemaker who takes care of my shoes. Clothes in style never bother me, and that makes it unnecessary to be fitted. When anything gets shabby, there's a new one to take its place."

POLICING THE CITY BY WIRELESS

Chicago Chief's Story of What Radio Has Done

HOW CHICAGO POLICE HEADQUARTERS COMMUNICATES WITH FLYING SQUADRONS BY RADIO. DETECTIVES AT CENTRAL HEADQUARTERS ARE SHOWN SENDING INSTRUCTIONS TO MOTOR SQUADS IN REMOTE SECTIONS OF THE CITY.

BY ROY GIBBONS
CHICAGO—The radiophone has joined Chicago's police department.

It's working 24 hours a day from its sending station on the city hall roof and receiving apparatus in outlying precincts.

And it's making Chicago's crooks nervous.

Nine fast racing cars in the service of city detective headquarters now are equipped with complete radio—sending and receiving sets, keeping them continually in touch with headquarters.

These cars are stationed in different parts of the city for use in emergency cases, as holdups or murders.

How It Works

Sitting in his downtown office the detective chief, learning of a spectacular robbery in some outlying precinct, can dispatch the nearest car to the scene of action by employing his radio instrument.

And when the car is rushing through city streets at top speed it can stay in uninterrupted communication with headquarters.

Outlying precinct stations now carry on most of their important communications with headquarters by means of radio instead of the old-fashioned private wire telephone.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris is enthusiastic over the future of radio in police work. He has written here his own story of the department's accomplishments for the benefit of police in other cities.

Inquiring To Know

Would Congress have to take a recess or adjourn if Wayne B. Wheeler were to become incapacitated for work?—Indianapolis Star.

Emma Always Is "Out of" Favor

BY CHARLES C. FITZMORRIS
Chicago Chief of Police
OF long ago most of us were inclined to look skeptically on the efficacy and practicality of radio.

In Chicago we have been using the wireless telephone as an adjunct to police work for several months. We are completely satisfied with results.

I predict a great future for the utilization of radio as a crime preventive.

It makes for efficiency everywhere by providing constant communication.

And it lessens to one the chances of the escaping crook to make good his getaway.

That's because radio is almost an ubiquitous agent. The policeman of the future, I predict, will no longer go stalking his man with a gun or billy, but rather will sit calmly at the station desk, and trail the criminal through the air with the speed of light.

So far we have not found it practical here to equip individual patrolmen with unit sending and receiving sets, but have confined ourselves mostly to installing radio apparatus on flying squadrons cars and in the various outlying precinct stations.

All of these agencies are consequently simultaneously in touch with each other and with headquarters as well.

I must say that wireless encourages me as a police chief because of its possibilities to aid in the work of crime detection.

I consider the day not far off when the crook will no longer what policeman is in pursuit, but rather will grow apprehensive trying to figure out what wave length is being used to bring him to justice!

Stay home at least five nights a week.
Take your family out walking at night and on Sunday.
Start a savings account.
Wait on yourself.
Repeat to your wife at least once a week your marriage vows.

Ohio Colleges Opposed To Competition For Athletic Material From High Schools

COLUMBUS, O., April 14.—Ohio colleges and universities today went on record against college competition for athletic material from high schools and preparatory schools, declared by some leading college authorities to be the principal cause of commercialism and professionalism in college sports of today.

Athletics the Servant

The Association of Ohio College Presidents and Deans, completing a two day session, today adopted a special report on the subject, outlining rules and regulations they expect to make athletics "the servant and not the master of the Ohio college life."

The report was prepared by a committee headed by President Edward S. Parsons, of Marietta college, and was presented yesterday after an investigation of more than a year, during which every phase of college athletic activity was gone into.

Major Recommendations

Among the major recommendations in this report were:

Don't emphasize the spectacular features of intercollegiate athletic sports.

Undertaking by their Ohio Conference, for the colleges of the state, of a study of "what shall and what shall not constitute professionalism in college athletics."

Limitation of participation in athletics to those who have met honestly the proper scholastic standards.

Standardization of athletic schedules so they cannot interfere with college studies.

Development of intra-mural athletics.

Formation of an interscholastic league among Ohio high schools to eliminate unnecessary duplication of contests.

As presented, the report prohibited students from participating in more than two college sports. This was intended to allow students to participate in as many sports as they could find time or inclination for.

One Football Game a Week

Under the heading of football, the report recommended that intercollegiate games should be limited to a maximum of one a week and opposed trips taking the team more than 200 miles away from home.

In basketball, the report recommended that post-season games be limited to three, and frowned on the playing of teams with non-college teams. The basketball season was specified as from January to March 1. The number of games played, the report said, should not exceed 16, and games should be avoided on study nights.

Pre-season trips for college basketball teams should not be permitted, the report held, and the number of ball games should be limited to 16 a year. Extended trips including more than two games should not be permitted.

The report stated that the commission believes heartily in college athletics, but does not believe that athletics should dominate college life. The report held that athletics should be brought directly under the supervision of the college faculty and that athletic profits should revert to the general college fund.

COURT HOUSE

Prisoners Will Be Arraigned

A number of persons indicted by the recent grand jury who are already in custody and others not on bond will be arraigned before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Saturday morning.

To Administer Estate

Attorney Walter L. Dickey was named by the Probate court Friday to administer the estate of the late Christopher Shepherd, well known Tenth street restaurant proprietor, who died April 1, leaving personal property with an estimated value of $500 to his widow, Josie Shepherd and an infant son.

Executrix Named

Mary A. Higgins has been appointed by the Probate court as executrix of the estate of her late mother, Agatha Muller, who died Jan. 20 last, at her home in this city, leaving an estate with an estimated value of $7500 represented entirely by personal property.

New Trial Granted

After hearing arguments of counsel on a motion for a new trial in the case of James G. Basham, Schottsville real estate agent, against M. K. Gambell, Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday set aside the verdict of the jury and ordered a new hearing.

The plaintiff sued on a claim of $220, which he alleged was due him as a commission on the sale of the defendant's farm in Kentucky, opposite Schottsville, two years ago and the jury which heard the case several weeks ago found in favor of the defendant.

Attorney B. F. Kumble for plaintiff and Attorneys Bannan and Bannan for Gambell, who now lives in Morgan township.

Made Ward of Court

James "Midnight" Lewis, 17, North End colored lad, was found to be guilty at a hearing in juvenile court Friday of stealing merchandise from the Flood and Blake drug store and the Ohio Valley Wholesale company warehouse, and Judge Gilliland made him a ward of the court and required him to pay for the property stolen.

Alleges False Arrest; Seeks Damages

Henry Griffith, 1822 Valley street, New Boston, brought an action in Common Pleas court Friday demanding $500 damages from Millard Daily, of New Boston, for alleged false arrest and imprisonment.

The plaintiff, in his petition, says that in March last, the defendant, falsely and maliciously, and without probable cause filed an affidavit in the court of Squire C. O. Davis on which a warrant issued under which he was arrested and imprisoned in the New Boston jail for the period of one day for alleged obtaining goods under false pretenses. Griffith then claims that the defendant refused his release from prison and alleges that while he was locked up Daily induced him to give him certain moneys and credits in order to secure his release from prison and to prevent the defendant from prosecuting the complaint.

Through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff asserts that Daily caused his arrest for the sole purpose of securing money from him, and Griffith declares that he has been injured in his reputation and character to the extent claimed.

Ordered To Pay Alimony

Following a hearing in Common Pleas court Friday, Judge Thomas ordered Claude Harrison, colored porter, to pay his wife, Letha Harrison, the sum of $10 a week pending the final hearing of her suit for divorce and alimony recently filed.

The couple were married in 1917 and have one child. They separated a week ago because Harrison claimed the plaintiff refused to be a wife to him.

Seeks Damages From City

Harry Hadford, 428 Fourth street is demanding $2000 damages from the City of Portsmouth in a suit instituted in Common Pleas court Friday for personal injuries he alleges he sustained when he fell through an opening in a bridge at Second and Seaside streets.

Through Attorney A. C. Woodrow, the plaintiff alleged that the bridge was carelessly constructed and maintained. He further claims to have been hurt about the back to such an extent that he was under the care of a physician for 42 days and losing his occupation as a miner.

Inman Will Filed

The will of the late John W. Inman, prominent insurance man, who died at his home in this city recently, filed in Probate court Friday, leaves $500 to his sister, Mrs. Nannie Rowland, of Columbus, and the remainder of his estate to his brother, William A. Inman, of this city, who is designated as executor.

The will was executed January 7, 1922.

City Defendant In Suit

The City of Portsmouth is made defendant in a suit brought in common Pleas court Friday in which William Truitt is seeking to recover on a claim for damages. In his petition filed through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff says he is the owner of Lot No. 217 of Greenlawn cemetery and complains that the city has without any authority or right taken possession of and constructed a concrete wall about two feet high over and on the lot, the further contends that he is being unlawfully kept out of possession of the premises and demands that the defendant be required to vacate and remove the wall and that he be awarded damages in the sum of $500.

Undertaker Richards Buys The Moulton Property

Another important real estate deal was closed Friday when Undertaker J. L. Richards of Ninth street purchased the Moulton property on northeast corner of Ninth and Waller streets.

The Bierley Realty company handled the negotiations and it is understood the consideration was $13,500.

The deal includes the two story business room on the corner and the three cottages on the property the dimensions of which are 66 by 132.

Mr. Richards plans to remodel the corner business block and occupy it with his undertaking business.

Bodies Of Local Soldiers Who Died In Action Arrive Here; Funerals Arranged

Two bodies of Scotch county's hero, who gave their lives in France while fighting against the German for arrived in this city today noon on N. and W. train No. 16. They were sent here from Columbus, where a number of bodies of Ohio soldiers arrived for distribution to homes in various sections of the state.

The bodies were those of Sergeant Charles S. Argerbright and Private Clifford Counts.

Sergeant Argerbright was 26 years of age when he died over there. He lived at 1616 Twelfth street when he left Portsmouth with Co. K for Camp Sherman, Ala.

On October 17, 1917 he was transferred to Truck Co. 48 as Sergeant. Later he was transferred to the First Anti-Aircraft Battalion, Machine Division. His company sailed for France May 1, 1918. Six months later he was sent to the front in action at Langres and on October 4, 1918, died in a field hospital back of the lines.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Daehler and later will be removed to the home of his sister Mrs. Rispy Broyles 1225 Waller street.

Besides Mrs. Broyles two other sisters Mrs. Jennie July of Second street and Mrs. Helen Campbell of Waverly N. Y. and his stepfather J. P. Simmons, survive.

Funeral services will be held from the home Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The American Legion and Fraternal Order of Eagles will have parties in the last rites. The Legion is making plans for one of the largest military funerals ever held here. Rev. E. H. Bailey of the U. B. church will conduct the last rites with burial in Greenlawn.

The body of Clifford Counts was taken in charge by Undertaker Richards and will take the body to the home of the mother Mrs. Nannie Counts 3722 Rhodes avenue New Boston.

Clifford Counts was born December

11, 1894. He enlisted in the army and left home for Camp Sherman July 25, 1918. He was a member of the 324th Infantry, 84th Division. He was sent over seas with the company and arrived in France September 13, 1918.

He was in the midst of the action almost immediately. About a month after his arrival in France, the 324th Infantry of the 84th Division, of which he was a member saw service in the Argonne woods. One day a small party, of which Counts was one, found itself in a small stable within the German lines, and with little food and ammunition left it was decided to send men back with a message. Counts was one of the several who volunteered to go. He had covered but half the distance from the stable to the American lines when a German sniper's bullet found its mark and he fell while serving not only his country, but his companions who were endangered by staying inside the enemy lines.

His death occurred on October 31, 1918, little more than a month after he arrived in France.

He is survived by his mother Mrs. Nannie Counts and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Roy Sutton of Youngstown, Mrs. Albert Carter of New Boston, John and Barbara Counts and Sena Counts at home.

Funeral services will be held from the home Sunday afternoon at two o'clock with J. C. Harris of New Boston probably in charge. The ex-service men of New Boston are to take part in the last rites. The American Legion will probably furnish a firing squad. Burial will be in Wheeler'sburg cemetery.

Do Tell! Weather Halts Bowling Games

HAMILTON, O., April 14.—The Associated Press—Bowling games halted by the weather. That was the usual experience at the V. M. C. A. alleys here last night when the Butler county bowling tournament was in session. Huge hail stones, some an inch in diameter, blew in through the windows of the bowling alleys and covered the runways with ice. Games had to be suspended while the alleys were cleaned.

Selects Team

Manager Fred Hunter stated Friday during rainstorms that he will select the following players to play Sunday as they have looked a game then.

Goldman, DeLoe, Mann, Starn, Maloney, DeVos, Roberts, Shover and Murphy.

FOR EYES THAT BEHOLD

EMERSON once wrote to the effect that if it were only at long intervals and remote places that the millions of stars shone in the firmament all the tribes of men would gather to watch the spectacle, but because the stars shine forth every fair night everywhere man seldom lifts his head to them.

That's true and there is equal truth in that mankind places scant store by any of the other wonderful beauties of nature that are at hand.

How many, for instance, do we find faring forth these bright April days to revel the eyes in the loveliness that is waving in the green fields and the blossoming on the hillsides?

Yet to him that will but behold there is nothing more entrancing, wonderful and mysterious. Here a week or so ago was land brown and bare, bleak and dreary stood the forest, but some warm rain, a glow of sunshine and the face of the earth is changed. Sweet odors fill the lungs and pictures of purple and pink and green ravish the eye.

Earth is getting ready to give up her stores that many may live and she is jubilant of her own generosity.

REDUCING THE TERMS

LOYD GEORGE is the big figure in the Genoa conference; it is scarce to be questioned that he is the big figure of the world.

Holding aloof from any participation in that conference out of a blind animosity to Woodrow Wilson the Harding administration sees itself neatly chucked into a hole by the English premier without so much as a protest.

With his consummate adroitness George announces at the conference that all the other nations have arranged to compound their credits and debts and as a partner in the Big Enterprise against Germany it is only fair and right. America should go as far in that direction as any of the others. In other words that in the sacrifices the several governments are making to relieve mankind the United States should at least be willing to release her debtors to the extent of accepting from them payment on the basis of the value of their currency at the time the liabilities were created, instead of their value now about fifty per cent, adding the thinly veiled suggestions that it is much better to get half a loaf than none, and worse.

It's a catchy plan. This government needs the money, worse than that it needs an international revival.

Watch for more wiggling and wobbling at Washington.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT

AFTER months of incubation the congress has at last laid the tariff egg.

So far it hasn't been given any name, and that's easily explained. No single individual can be found with the hardihood to stand sponsor for it.

About all that can be said for it is that it is worse than was expected. The delusion curiously persists with Republican legislators that a people become prosperous and happy in proportion to the degree in which the taxes are raised on them, and it is proudly proclaimed rates under the new measure are higher than under the Dingley bill, which was the most disastrous thing to itself that the Republican party ever perpetrated.

The new and heavier imposts are not received with joyous acclaim through the land. For outside of congress it is becoming quite well understood that this country can neither live for itself nor in itself. Blood and death have brought the nations of the world into closer relationship and any artificial barrier sought to erect between must be viewed both as a wrong to all and a judgment to the builders.

Don't tell us that the Poorless is not moving steadily and irresistibly onward. Why the other day they laid a new sidewalk at the southeast corner of Seventh and Gay—no not a new sidewalk either, but adjusted the prehistoric brick to a regularity that will shed the water fairly well. For thirty years there have been protests, oburgations, ordinances and resolutions against the spot being a series of pools, lagoons and lakes after every sharp rain.

To be sure these constant and recurring rains are a left over from the Wilson administration.

Dempsey is going over to lick the whole of Europe and no red blooded American doubts his ability to do it.

Capital punishment seems to have been discarded in California except when it comes to hanging juries.

The record of some of the alleged big game who have recently been breaking into print reads as though the charge should be polygamy.

The so-called monkey gland cure is all bunk, says a professor in a medical school.

Bryan now says he prefers to keep on believing he came from mud instead of from a monkey. Well, so far as known no one is objecting.

A prodigy should get all he can out of it. He may not amount to much when he grows up.

When retribution overtakes a scoundrel man he usually tries to blame everything on his wife.

Many a man buys with a good deal of money, and then there are some who will not pay for it at all.

It has not been announced how many of the members of the California boat which returned to the coast will challenge Dempsey.

JOSEPH'S BROTHERN

THEY laded their asses with corn and went back to their father and told all that had befallen them. As they emptied their sacks every man's bundle of money was in his sack. When all the corn was eaten their father said, "Go again, buy us food." They said they would not be received if they did not take Benjamin with them. Gaining their father's consent, they again went into Egypt. When Joseph saw Benjamin he said, "These men shall dine with me." He gave Benjamin five times as much as the others. They drank and were merry with him.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 14.—Thoughts

while strolling around New York:

The Times Square night life.

Excitement enters every sophistication. Dirty little gourmets. Eyes popping and necks bulging.

Lured by the coffee shops.

Charlie Norris, the novelist, looking out from a subway kiosk. Joy riders hitting it up for the bottle yards.

Wide-eyed spinners in Chinatown buses. Getting thrills to take back to Big Pump and Orchard Hollow.

Visions of summer. A straw hat window display. The harsh over-tone of the demi-mondaine. Killing off men instead of giving them the mittens. There goes Frank Munsey in evening dress.

Old gallants twiddling their thumbs in hotel windows. The cry "Stop

That!" And the chase is on. They caught him—a pesty, white faced boy.

Albair's luncheon place.

A theory once wrote it up in a tale.

Arthur Guiterman, the poet. A fire wagon. Flashes cross town. And Broadway's heart skips a beat.

Tim Pan Alley grinding out its moon and beach summer ditties.

Whatever because of the thick pedestrian? Straggly cafe cuts, sultry the night air. Frowzy women trekking to cafeterias for buckets of coffee. Ten p.m. and the beauty parlors are having their biggest rush.

The "flat tires" along the curb. Waiting for a windfall.

Tall girls dangling with jade. Costumed couples straining puffs in stage doorways. Armenian peddlers hawking honey soaked pastry. The slush of music from low eisted director. Joy clutched in the bottles of horror. A sullen sort of swiftness betokening jangling nerves.

The lights blaze for the summer revues. Madison Square light blinking like a pallid owl. The click of poker chips in the shady hotels. Hackman howling for millions. Fifth Avenue's flame of number lights. Soon the morning breaks. And it's just another day.

The Palace theatre is the goal of every vanderbilt obscurity. Two weeks at the Palace means a year's solid looking. And the Palace acts to come from Plainfield, Holokus and Cos Cob. Each week the scouts go out to the "brush" to get a line on some performer ripe for Broadway. The longest run at the Palace is that of the Dolly Sisters who recently ended their fifth week there.

They might have remained inde-linitely save for a London engagement.

A tattered group of youngsters from the East Side water front trickled into Park Avenue last Sunday morning with a rag ball and broomstick to open up the baseball season. The malls were gay with silk battered promenaders. Soon four old duffers with closely cropped must-aches, frock coats and pince nez had joined the game and a fifth acted as umpire. And they played for half hour and then took the youngsters to a nearby ice cream parlor for a treat. "Best time I've had in 20 years," said one.

A New York newspaper gives first page prominence to a dinner in a hotel banquet room at which not one drop of liquor was consumed.

The Trail That Leads Back Home

I don't know of worldliness,

I who am far from home;

The bright lights ever beckon on

Along the way of Rome.

Surrounded by the merry throng,

I while the hours away;

Forgetful of all else, 'twould seem,

The gayest of the gay.

But when the revelry is past

When all alone I sit,

Sweet memories round me flit;

For nestled in among the hills,

A little town I see,

Where often the very window-lights

A welcome wink at me,

And some day I am going back—

For that's God's country there,

Where "lowly, stranger" are the words.

One meets with everywhere,

Sip my last of Passion's cup,

I bid farewell to Rome,

I start tomorrow on that trail—

The trail that leads back home.
